Hopes For Quick Victory In China Have Now Vanished

Strong Chinese Government Friendly To Japan Is Now Aim—Troops Being Moved Northward

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Reuter's News Agency reported today from Peking that five Japanese divisions have been sent from north China to Manchukuo because of Japanese-Soviet tension on the Manchukuo border. A report from Hong Kong to the London Daily Herald Saturday said foreigners coming from Manchukuo reported a "large-scale anti-Japanese revolution" in Manchukuo is "almost inevitable" if the use in China continues. The reported troop movements coincided with renewed Soviet-Japanese strains over the question of Japanese fisheries in Siberian waters. Tokyo warned Moscow today if the fisheries convention between the two countries is not renewed it will not be responsible for "complications" that may ensue.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 20.—Japanese army officers today admitted that all hopes of a quick victory in China are gone as they outlined plans for a five-year campaign designed to pacify north China and establish a strong Chinese government friendly to Japan.

MINOR REVOLT IS UNDER WAY IN MINISTRY

Junior Members Likely To Turn In Resignations

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Prime Minister Chamberlain, his former ally approved by the House of Commons today, began an investigation today of alleged disaffection in defence ministries.

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 20.—A minor revolt among junior members of the Chamberlain ministry came to light last night with some resignations considered a distinct possibility.

Three junior members of the overseas trade department, the Marquess of Dufferin and Ava, colonial under-secretary, and Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, under-secretary for war, were reported demanding drastic changes in the government's rearmament policy.

Their criticism was said to be aimed chiefly at Leslie Boreland, secretary for war, and Sir Thomas Inskip, defence co-ordination minister, who they claim have not been pushing the nation's rearmament policy far enough or fast enough.

If the reports are correct, they

TWO CHILDREN PERISH IN FIRE OF WORKSHOP

Bodies of Boys Found in Ruins — Play With Matches

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Dec. 20.—Bodies of two boys were found Monday in the ruins of a workshop after firemen had extinguished the flaming structure.

The two, David Whitlock, four, and Harold Carlson, five, were not taken to have been in the building. Firemen presumed they were playing with matches.

The children, whose bodies were found huddled in a corner of the shop, were believed to have been suffocated by smoke from burning oil and paint.

A large crowd, unaware the boys were in the workshop, watched firemen fight the blaze for only a few persons were still at the scene when firemen controlled the flames and ended the tragedy.

evidence of loyalty, devotion and support, which have inspired and sustained me in the task of leadership of the Liberal party in Canada for a period of now, nearly 20 years, none has meant more to me than the resolution adopted at this morning's meeting.

I should like my fellow-Liberals to know, as I am sure they do, that no one has deplored more deeply than I myself have the circumstances which surround this morning's meeting, not only in Ontario but throughout Canada, rendered necessary the meeting that they are holding today.

Throughout the course of my leadership I have devoted my utmost to preserve unity and harmony between the party, and have also sought to do in the larger sphere of national and international relations.

So long as I am privileged to remain in public life, I shall continue, ever all else, to devote my time and energies to that end, believing that the only solution to the problems of our day, whether they be between men or nations, will be found in co-operation based upon good-will.

I might be permitted to say a further word concerning my feelings at this time. It would be to express the hope that today's meeting may serve to mark a place of new beginning in friendly and helpful co-operation, on the part of all members of the party in all parts of Canada.

Earl's Fiancee?

Sandra Rameau, former European showgirl, whose name has several times been romantically linked with royalty, is now rumored to be engaged to Michael, Duke of Warwick.

It is understood the committee will consult with local Liberal organizations in the constituencies and members of the provincial legislature with a view to promoting unity and co-operation in the party's campaign machinery.

Mr. Mackenzie King last night attended a private dinner given by the caucus and took part in a discussion there.

While the Prime Minister was not present at the caucus deliberations, he held closed doors, he sent a letter to Mr. Taylor expressing thanks for the resolution of confidence.

EVIDENCES OF LOYALTY
"I can only say that the many evidences of loyalty, devotion and support, which have inspired and sustained me in the task of leadership of the Liberal party in Canada, none has meant more to me than the resolution adopted at this morning's meeting," the Prime Minister wrote.

"No one," he deplored more than myself, the circumstances which made Monday's meeting necessary, and would continue to do so.

Mr. Mackenzie King expressed his hope "Monday's meeting may serve to mark the place of new beginning in friendly and helpful co-operation on the part of all members of the party in all parts of Canada."

APPROVE ROGERS
While Premier Heppburn was not denounced expressly, members of the caucus voiced approval of the speech of Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor, at Port Arthur.

He had brought the federal-provincial dispute into the open a week ago. In it Mr. Rogers accused Mr. Heppburn of entering an "operational alliance" with Premier Macdonald.

Duponts of Quebec and of taking part in a conspiracy to oust Mr. Mackenzie King from the position of prime minister.

This was after Mr. Rogers made a statement to the caucus of the circumstances leading up to his speech and Hon. C. D. Howe, transport minister, outlined the situation in his Port Arthur constituency.

There, he said, an effort was made to oust Charles Cox, former member of the Heppburn cabinet, in Mr. Heppburn's place as Liberal candidate for the next federal election.

Each individual member of the caucus was asked to report briefly on conditions in his own constituency and a spokesman said they showed no split existed in the party. The federal and provincial ministers in each constituency and the party workers were operating harmoniously.

Individual members said the general feeling in the constituencies was one of regret at the controversy between the leaders. Party followers were puzzled and disturbed.

While they expressed no criticism of Premier Heppburn they wished he would desist from his attacks on the Prime Minister.

NO VOTE TAKEN
Not a vote was taken all day. The committee proposal came after statements from members on conditions in their constituencies.

No specific instructions were given the committee which, it is understood, will canvass the situation in each riding and endeavor to ascertain whether this organization is loyal to the federal administration and prepared to work with it in the past, regardless of its personal loyalty.

It is understood Mr. Howe and Mr. Rogers will serve on the committee, which will mean that there is no split in the party.

Liberal's Conciliation Committee Gets in Action To Reason With Heppburn

By THOS. WATLING
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
OTTAWA, Dec. 20.—The Liberal party's committee of conciliation, appointed Monday to take steps to heal the King-Heppburn breach went into action last night. The 11 members of the committee headed by Hon. W. D. Balcer, have appointed a sub-committee of six.

This sub-committee is to see Premier Heppburn at the earliest possible moment and reason with him. Before the Ontario Liberal leader leaves for the Orient the committee of six went to reconcile him with the Federal leader.

The main committee was empowered by today's conference to take such action as deemed necessary to deal with the present schism within the party.

On the committee are Liberals known to be friendly to the Ontario leader.

Norman Gray, chief whip of the Liberal Party, has been seen in Ontario and was a former intimate of the redoubtable Mitch, and probably will be.

Then there's W. A. Fraser, the pacifist, little known member from Northumberland, another old friend but one given to speaking his mind.

Not "Why should he be worried? There isn't any sense in being worried."

Miss Noble, a nurse, first made Mr. Heppburn's acquaintance through a mutual friend, and she wrote each other for eight months. She sent her photograph, Mr. Heppburn proposed the engagement ring.

Every effort is to be made to placate the recalcitrant "Miles," he persists and friendly advice and counsel then the committee of seven may take other steps.

Before anything further is done there will be a meeting of the Ontario caucus in January when the house meets.

To this meeting the main committee will report the success or failure of its efforts.

In the last analysis the committee may make and recommend plans to move in on the Ontario Liberal organization and take it over.

They hope, however, that the sub-committee of six may induce Mr. Heppburn to moderate his attitude.

Mr. Mackenzie King was in a happy frame of mind as he left the banquet hall. "I am greatly pleased and I think I have reason to be," he said.

NO APPEALMENT
W. H. Taylor, member of the House of Commons for Norfolk and census chairman, spoke at the banquet and declared there was nothing in a report the caucus would seek to "appeal" Mr. Heppburn.

It was stated earlier a committee under chairmanship of Hon. W. D. Balcer, minister of trade, would canvass the situation in the ridings and report back to the first Ontario caucus to be held after parliament meets January 12.

Mr. Balcer's speech last night the prime minister's keynote was unity. He deplored any action that would disturb unity within the dominion and dedicated himself to maintaining harmonious and peaceful relations not only in the dominion but in the larger field of international affairs.

CAPONE GONE MAD MEDIC'S REPORT SAYS

Former Overlord of Underworld Has Brain Disease

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20.—District Attorney William J. Campbell reported today the ravages of a brain disease made Al Capone such "a dangerous man" at times that he may be kept in prison until 1942 for treatment.

He disclosed the former overlord of the Chicago underworld was suffering from paresis, a malady marked by the progressive loss of mental and physical power. Capone was irrational about one-fourth of the time, he said.

Campbell announced Capone's attorneys and members of his family would confer with United States government officials in Washington "this week" concerning disposition of the prisoner once dubbed "the world's most notorious gangster."

It had been expected that Capone would be granted time off for good behavior, released from Alcatraz January 19 and brought to Chicago to serve an additional year in the Cook County jail. Capone was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment for evading the income tax law and to one year in jail for failing to file tax returns.

Supper Party Is Compliment To City Blind

Blind citizens of Edmonton were the happy guests of the members of the Independent Daughters of the Empire, Duke of Edinburgh Chapter and the Canadian National Institute for the Blind at a Christmas supper and party in the Corona Hotel on Monday evening when Mr. Howard Stubbins was master of ceremonies and Mr. H. H. Cooper of the Institute took the role of the chief chairman.

In speaking to the gathering, Mr. Cooper spoke of the "blind" it gives to us to have you here with us to celebrate Christmas. I wish to express my sincere appreciation of the good work done by the Independent Daughters of the Empire who are joint hosts with us tonight. Without their help we could never carry on our work. For the many parties they have given in the past for our blind friends, I thank them.

TRIBUTE

To Mrs. Kinneer, the municipal corporation, who made another report for us in our annual campaign for funds to carry on our work. We feel deep gratitude; and we thank also for the Cosmopolitan Club which turned in advance for the "breaker" in their fund campaign.

COOPER CONTINUES

Mr. Cooper informed the blind people present that there is a bowling team from the Municipal Council, who are going to play on Monday night, from 10:30 to 12:00 when the alleys are reserved for them.

Of 53 blind people in Edmonton, there are only three who are city residents and it is expected that in the very near future two of these will be in our ranks.
